

Social Media Pack: Be A Positive Messenger 2018

This campaign supports Refugee Week (18-24 June): there's too much online hate directed at refugees and migrants - Positive Messengers are countering this with positive online messages.

Be a Positive Messenger and share YOUR positive message with our campaign partners including the British Council, Hope Not Hate and Refugee Week.

SHOW YOUR SUPPORT

1. Sign up to the Be A Positive Messenger Thunderclap campaign - help us make a splash by coordinating our social media posts all at once!

You can do this now in about 15 seconds: go to our Thunderclap campaign page <https://www.thunderclap.it/projects/70385-be-a-positive-messenger>

Click on the different social media channels you use to schedule a supportive post from your account which will go out automatically during Refugee Week. You can do this now and it will all happen automatically at the right time!

2. Share a Be A Positive Messenger post right now

Use one of the suggested posts below to spread the word on Twitter, Facebook or Instagram, or write your own using #PositiveMessengers and #RefugeeWeek2018

3. Do a simple action to be a Positive Messenger and share it on social media

Choose one or more actions from our campaign partners and share it on social media using #PositiveMessengers and #RefugeeWeek2018 - go to www.beapositivemessenger.eu for details.

✓ Partners with links to education will be particularly interested in the British Council's fantastic “Be A Positive Messenger Homework Challenge” pack, which can be downloaded for free here.

✓ Partners with links to organisations working with refugees, immigrants or asylum seekers will be particularly interested in Hope Not Hate's “Difficult Conversations” interactive PPT tool, developed specially for this project. Difficult Conversations is a methodology for engaging with hostile people in way that maximises the chances of getting them to see a different point of view. Download at: www.beapositivemessenger.eu (from Monday 11 June).

5. Promote your own Be A Positive Messenger activity

If you wish to do your own activity please let us know on positivemessengers@languagescompany.com and we will add your activity to the list of partners, and help promote it.

7. Share your Be A Positive Messenger photos and videos using #RefugeeWeek2018 and #PositiveMessengers

We'd love to see how you are participating in this campaign!

Suggested tweets (you can also share posts from Be A Positive Messenger's Twitter account)

Before Refugee Week (before 18 June)

Join the UK's Be A Positive Messenger campaign against online hate speech: schedule your online message of support through this link today:

<https://www.thunderclap.it/projects/70385-be-a-positive-messenger> Just 15 secs to register now - all messages will go out at once for a big splash during #RefugeeWeek2018

Proud to contribute to a positive discourse on refugees and migrants as part of Be A Positive Messenger campaign, supporting #RefugeeWeek2018 18-24 June #PositiveMessengers <https://bit.ly/2sx3aAq>

Celebrate #RefugeeWeek2018 on 18-24 June by encouraging your students to take the British Council's @Schools_On_Line #PositiveMessengers challenge, containing twenty important questions on the refugee crisis. <http://goo.gl/nTZoaz>

During Refugee Week (18-24 June)

This week is #RefugeeWeek2018 and we are participating in the #PositiveMessengers campaign to stem the tide of online hostility aimed at refugees and migrants. Take part! <https://bit.ly/2sx3aAq>

Will you join us in being #PositiveMessengers against online hate targeted at refugees and migrants as part of #RefugeeWeek2018 ? See some simple actions you can take at: <https://bit.ly/2sx3aAq>

I've just taken part in the British Council's @Schools_On_Line #PositiveMessengers challenge to combat online hate targeted at migrants and refugees this #RefugeeWeek2018 - see what you can do at <https://bit.ly/2sx3aAq>